COOK WITH SCRAPS WORKSHOP HELPS RESIDENTS MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY BITE

Fifteen enthusiastic participants filled every seat at the recent Cook with Scraps workshop delivered by Urban Revolution as part of the GO Circular Be A Great Sort Program. Funded through the State Government's Waste Authority Waste Sorted Community Education Grant Program, the hands-on workshop provided practical and creative ways to reduce household food waste while saving money and making the most of everyday ingredients.

Participants learned a range of simple tips and techniques for turning commonly discarded food scraps into useful and delicious products. One popular demonstration showed how potato peels can be transformed into a crunchy air fryer snack, while another highlighted how vegetables nearing the end of their life can be used to create a nutritious homemade stock rather than ending up in the bin.

The workshop also explored a variety of preservation and reuse methods, including preserving lemons, making sauerkraut and kimchi, creating homemade cordials, and repurposing used coffee grounds into an effective gardener's hand scrub. These practical ideas demonstrated how kitchen waste can often be given a second life with a little creativity.

Participants were treated to a tasting of a hearty vegetable soup made from the homemade stock and rescued vegetables featured during the session, providing a delicious example of food waste reduction in action.

To help continue these practices at home, attendees received a fruit and vegetable storage guide packed with practical advice for extending the life of fresh produce. The guide included simple storage solutions, such as placing a tea towel around cruciferous vegetables to absorb excess moisture and help keep vegetables fresher for longer.

The workshop was well received, with participants leaving equipped with new skills, practical resources, and a greater understanding of how small changes in the kitchen can significantly reduce food waste. Through initiatives such as Cook with Scraps, the GO Circular Be A Great Sort Program continues to support residents in adopting sustainable habits that benefit both households and the environment.

LOCAL COMMUNITY HELPS SHAPE GOOMALLING'S FUTURE

Community members and local organisations came together on 21 September 2026 to help shape the future direction of Goomalling as part of the Shire's Strategic Community Plan review, facilitated by Darren Mollenoyux of 150 Square.

Three consultation workshops were held throughout the day, with one session hosted at the Community Resource Centre (CRC) and two sessions held at the Town Hall. The morning workshop targeted Seniors, the evening sessions were targeted at sporting groups and not-for-profit organisations, while the last session was open to the broader community.

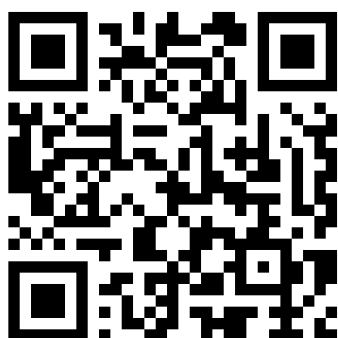

Two people attended the initial morning workshop, while 24 representatives from a wide range of community groups participated in the main stakeholder consultation. Organisations represented included the Men's Shed, Football Club, St John Ambulance, P&F, Community Bank®, Community Garden, Historical Society, CRC, Sport and Community Centre, Tennis Club, Cricket Club, Hockey Club, P&C, Netball Club, Jennacubbine Progress Association, Gumnuts Playgroup, Konnongorring Hall, Konnongorring Tennis Club, Gabby Quoi Quoi Catchment Group and Jennacubbine Recreation Council.

Following the stakeholder session, 13 participants remained to take part in the general community consultation.

Discussions focused on the key pillars of the Shire's Strategic Community Plan, including Governance, Social, Economic, Built Environment and Natural Environment priorities. While a broad range of topics were discussed, there was strong consensus around several key priorities for the future.

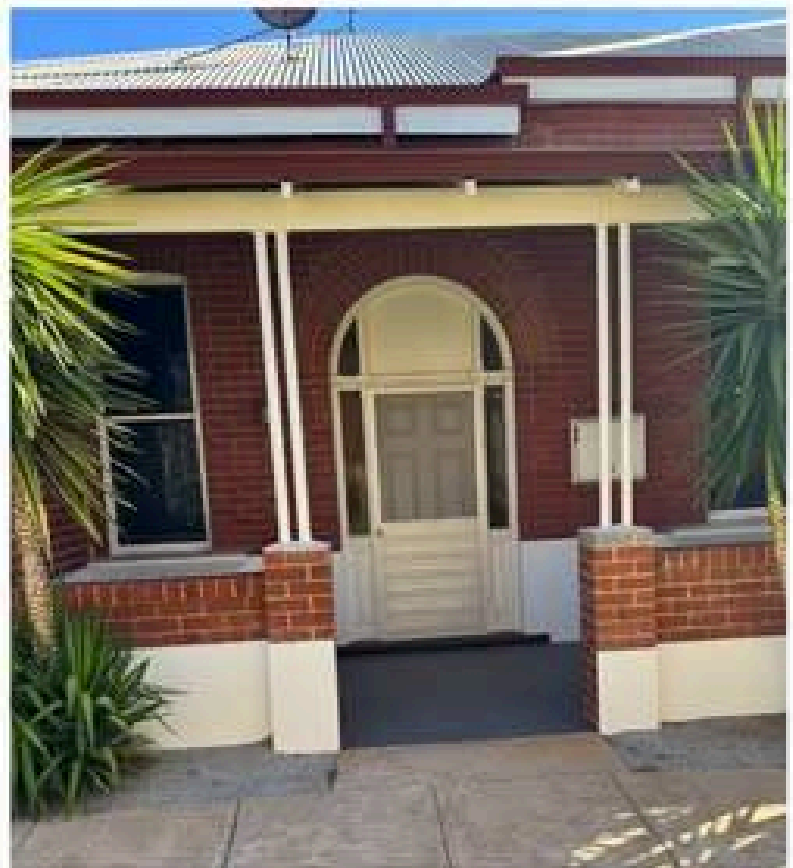

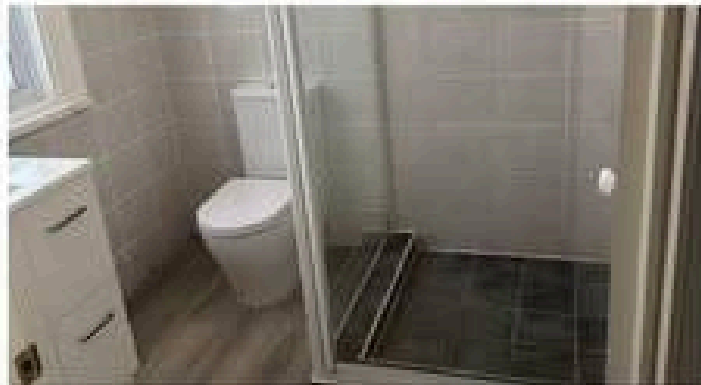

Housing emerged as the community's highest priority, reflecting the need to attract and retain residents, workers, and families. Participants also highlighted the importance of road safety improvements, maintaining and enhancing the swimming pool, and creating dedicated youth spaces and activities. The promotion of Goomalling as a welcoming and attractive place to visit, live and work was also identified as a significant opportunity for future growth and development.

The valuable feedback gathered through these workshops will help inform the development of the Shire's Strategic Community Plan and ensure future priorities reflect the aspirations of residents and community organisations.

Community members who have not yet had the opportunity to provide feedback are encouraged to complete the community survey, which remains open via the QR code provided.

The Shire thanks everyone who attended the workshops and contributed their ideas, insights, and vision for Goomalling's future.

Arcadia Crop Circles Art Installation 2026

Over the King's Birthday long weekend, a wheat paddock in Goomalling was transformed into an extraordinary outdoor gallery, where art, landscape and community came together for Arcadia Crop Circles Art Installation 2026. The only known crop circle art installation in Australia.

Seventeen artists from the Wheatbelt, Perth, Italy and America brought their work to life within the crop circles, creating a unique and immersive experience against the beauty of the Goomalling landscape. Two additional artists exhibited their paintings and etchings along the main street, with their work still available to view between Lot 39 and Anstey Park.

The weekend officially opened on Friday, 25 September, with an Opening Night that welcomed around 100 people. Despite the windy weather, visitors gathered to experience the installation for the first time, enjoy a delicious dinner catered by the Goomalling Bowling Club, and be entertained by the musical talents of Kit Byfield, Maple Row Duo, Sorry Molly and Paddock Surfers.

Over the course of the weekend 550 people visited Arcadia Crop Circles Art Installation. Embracing the opportunity to wander through the artworks and experience art in such an unexpected and beautiful setting.

Adding another layer of creativity to the weekend, Midland Bricks' Nathan and Dave joined forces with members of the community to create an ephemeral art piece using Goomalling's own Koomalin Clay.

Visitors were invited to shape the clay into imaginative creatures, creating a playful and ever-changing artwork. Profits from Midland Brick Koomalin Clay, goes towards the artist residency at Sacred Heart Catholic School and Goomalling Primary School in Term 3. The students work was displayed in the crop circles.

Accessibility was also an important part of the weekend. AFGRI Wongan Hills generously loaned two Gators, helping visitors who needed assistance to travel across the paddock and ensuring that more people could experience the magic of Arcadia Crop Circles Art Installation.

Arcadia Crop Circles Art Installation is ultimately a celebration of creativity, place and community – made possible by the many people, artists, businesses and organisations who contributed their time, energy and support.

The weekend would not have been possible without the generous support of Goomalling and Districts Community Bank. Arcadia Crop Circles Art Installation extends its heartfelt thanks for their financial contribution and belief in bringing this unique arts experience to Goomalling.

From the artists and volunteers to the musicians, community members, supporters and every visitor who made the journey, Arcadia 2026 was a wonderful reminder of what can happen when art and community come together.

Thank you to Dunnings for the hire of the generator. The crowd could enjoy the band Friday night as well as coffee and food over the weekend.

Telstra Mobile Network Disruption Advice

Telstra 4G upgrade and new 5G for Goomalling

Telstra will be upgrading its mobile base station that services Goomalling to bring a better 4G and 5G user experience.

Mobile services in the area will be temporarily disrupted while the upgrade works are underway.

Upgrade works will commence on site from Monday 12 October for a period of 6 days.

During these works, the site will need to be switched off for periods of up to 8 hours to safely complete works.

While we do our best to deliver planned works as scheduled, there may be occasions where timings or impacts change due to factors outside our control. Keep up to do date on this outage via telstra.com/mobile-outages

Important details

- Telstra mobile customers will receive an SMS advising of the upcoming work.
- These works will not impact NBN, Satellite internet services, PSTN landline services, or mobile coverage from other providers.
- If the Telstra mobile network is unavailable, compatible mobile phones will automatically attempt to connect to Triple Zero (000) via another available mobile network through emergency "camp on". If your first attempt doesn't connect within around five seconds, hang up and try again immediately. On subsequent attempts, stay on the line for up to 60 seconds to give your phone the best chance to access another available network and connect your call.
- Some medical and personal safety devices, including fall detection systems, in-room monitors, alarm pendants and health monitoring devices, may be impacted if they rely on the Telstra mobile network. Customers who use these devices should contact their service provider or manufacturer to understand any potential impacts and whether alternative connectivity options, such as Wi-Fi, are available.
- Businesses that use EFTPOS terminals that rely on the Telstra Mobile network should contact their bank or EFTPOS provider to check whether their terminal can connect via nbn or Wi-Fi. Making this change may allow payments to continue to be processed if mobile service is temporarily disrupted.
